

Plus, online studies are off to a great start!

January 2021

What do you see in your rear view mirror, Paulette?

2020!

Thank goodness!

2021 holds great promise for a vaccine and a slow return to something that resembles the way life used to be. We've prayed for you and your families throughout this trying time and will continue to pray for you.

We've also prayed that God would guide you as you plan for your After the Boxes study. Of course, meeting in person is ideal, but if you've decided that it's not safe to meet in person, an Online Study is a great alternative. We've had really positive feedback from leaders who have transitioned to online!

"Just amazing! God took care of them all. I believe all of us are friends for life. We are already planning on getting together when COVID is over. (remember, they are spread out across the USA) The experience was one of the best study groups I think I have ever been in. Blessed beyond measure!" Vicky, a leader in Texas

When you continue to offer your study, you're providing the connection, caring and encouragement that you know newcomers so desperately need.

If you decide to offer your study online, we provide the tools and support you need. Comprehensive online study guidelines, tips, helps, and streaming videos will make the transition to online easier for you, your team, and the women attending your study. We have implemented new opportunities, streamlined the the ordering process, and added discounted bundles!

As always, we are ready to answer any questions, talk with you about your concerns, and take your orders for your winter/spring study group. Please call 480.991.5268
